THIS MONTH

September 16, 1997

Bette Kot, librarian, instructor, lecturer, and a professional genealogist, will speak on LEARNING YOUR WAY AROUND SUTRO LIBRARY. Bette has co-authored two books on the library: CITY DIRECTORIES AT SUTRO LIBRARY and MASSACHUSETTS VITAL RECORDS AT SUTRO.

LAST MONTH

Reported by Fran and Bob Schweitzer

Twelve SRVGS members presented memorabilia and antiques to illustrate how they can arouse interest in ancestors and genealogy.

PAT SALTGAVE shared an authentic Indian peace pipe and told how she was able to search government records and history books to trace its relationship to her family.

WIN KYNETT displayed a beautiful, reversible, summer-winter design woven cotton throw. It was machine made in 1843 and, at the time, cost $7.00. His family had used it as a room divider for many years until he found out its original story and current value.

JOYCE EVANS showed an embroidered sampler dated 1817 which included not only pictures but family names and dates of marriages.

MARGE KOENIG inherited two complete sets of dark Bavarian clothing along with pictures of relatives wearing them.

THERON NELSON followed a map of a rural postal route to find the Nelson graveyard and part of a grave marker.

JANET KOPAL had a wedding dress, breast watch, and pictures of her grandparents and their home in Woodburn, Oregon. The watch could be seen in the photos.

ED O'DONNELL explained about the Canadian Peter Robinson expedition and an ink well carved by a Joilet Prison inmate which no one can connect with the family.

LOIS TAYLOR showed a Civil War Military Medallion. She was able to research government pension and military records from the engraved information.

IRMA DOTSON, while researching in West Virginia, discovered that 5200 medals had not been claimed by Civil War veterans. She was able to obtain her uncle's medal which contained valuable information.

Irma also shared JIM DOTSON's mystery cup from the St. Louis Fair that had his mother's name engraved on it although she had not yet been born.

ARDITH STEGER showed an elegant velvet sewing box dated 1841. It included such tools as button hooks, awls, etc.

SHIRLEY TERRY presented a set of silver pitchers engraved with another spelling of her name.

Shirley also handed out an information sheet titled DON'T LET YOUR HEIRLOOMS END UP IN AN ANTIQUE STORE.

REVIEWS

Dorothy Stanton

Now that our society has a shelf in the reference section of the Danville Public Library (on Front Street), we want to call your attention to a few of the books to be found there.

MAP GUIDE TO THE U.S. FEDERAL CENSUSES 1790-1920 by William Thorndale and William Dollarhide. 445 pp. GPC 1987 [R929.373]

If your ancestor seems to have resided in several counties, according to census indexes, it doesn't necessarily mean that he moved a lot. Maybe the county boundaries changed.

The 400 maps in this book show the counties of each state at each of the census years superimposed over modern times. Each map also lists which county lines exist and which are lost. Included are facts about each census, an index of all counties (past and present) and a state-by-state bibliography of sources. This award-winning publication is an important research tool for genealogists.

THE HANDYBOOK FOR GENEALOGISTS United States of America Everton Publishers [929.2]

This is usually the first book that genealogist buy for their home library. Although it has maps of each state with the current county lines, its main strength is the information on each county, past and present. It lists date of information, the parent county or territory from which it was organized, what records are available and where they are located (including address and phone number.)

THE GENEALOGISTS ADDRESS BOOK [929.10257 Bentley], GPC 1991

Check this book for addresses and supplemental information on archives and libraries (with genealogical holdings) on the national, regional, county and city level. It also lists historical societies, ethnic and religious sources, periodicals and newsletters. This copy was donated to our library by JO BOLENBAKER.

THE REDBOOK: THE NATIONAL DIRECTORY OF MORTICIANS 1989 [R393 Redbook]

This book lists funeral homes by state and city with addresses and phone numbers. If you don't find it on our shelf, check for it on the general reference shelves. It keeps getting misshelved, so please return it to our shelf when you finish with it.

SRVGS NEWS

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

I have been really looking forward to September this year as my summer was extremely busy getting some of my Siems family history into print for my dad's 80th birthday and organizing our youngest daughter's wedding.

The September dates were off in our summer newsletter. All but our newest members realize that our board meetings are the first Tuesday of the month and the general meetings are always the third Tuesday of the month. Program Chairman JANE STEINER has planned some great programs. For September 16, she has asked BETTE KOT to tell us what Sutro Library in San Francisco has, so we can plan what we'll do there on our September 23rd Library Trip.

Those planning upcoming meetings should remember to check the dates with CAROL HUVANE, our Interest Group Coordinator, to avoid conflicts with other groups (especially when changing to a different time or day.)

We have scheduled Thursday, September 18, (two days after our general meeting) as an organizational meeting for the 30 people who expressed an interest in German, Scottish, English, French, Italian and Scandinavian research. There was also interest in Dutch, Portuguese, Polish, Russian and Eastern European research.

If you absolutely cannot make the meeting but want to make your wishes known, check the chart entitle "SRVGS European Interest Groups" on the bulletin board at the general meeting to find and talk to another member with the same interest who can relay your thoughts.

The Livermore-Amador Genealogical Society's annual seminar on Saturday, September 20, is at Pleasanton this year (See page 18). Several SRVGS members will be among the knowledgeable speakers. This is a great opportunity to learn more about genealogical subjects.

As you can see, we're going to be very busy this month. I'm looking forward to seeing you and getting acquainted with our many newer members. Don't forget to pick up our new directory at the general meeting.

— Shirley Siems Terry

MEMBER CLASS

It's time to go back to school. The next class, Organization and Beginning Genealogy, will meet at 10:00 a.m., Tuesday, September 30, 1997, at FRAN LLOYD'S, 210 Town & Country, Danville (837-9382).

EUROPEAN INTEREST GROUP

If you are interested in meeting with other members involved in European research, be sure to attend the organizational meeting 10:00 a.m., Tuesday, September 30th, in our regular room at the Golden State Rehabilitation Hospital, 7777 Norris Canyon Road, San Ramon.

COMPUTER EXPERT

Have you been wondering what computer would best meet your needs? DENISE SHOO, a new SRVGS member and expert on computer hardware, is willing to work one-on-one with society members to suggest a suitable computer or evaluate your current hardware. Denise, who keeps up with prices, can make suggestions based on your price range and can advise you on where to find the best buys. Her phone number is 830-1235. Welcome to SRVGS, Denise!

SEPTEMBER LIBRARY TRIP

On Tuesday, September 23, we will explore Sutro Library. We will meet at 9:00 a.m. in the back parking lot of the Danville Lucky store on Diablo Blvd, or in the upper parking lot of the Orchard Nursery in Lafayette. These trips are a great way to meet new members and to get personal help from experienced ones.

PROGRAM REPORTERS NEEDED

Have you always wanted to see your name in print? Do you want to keep an edge on your writing skills while researching material for that book on family genealogy that you plan to write? If you would like to be a program reporter, please let BETTY VAIL know.

WE SAID IT WITH A BRICK

The Museum of the San Ramon Valley said thank you.

RESEARCHING ACROSS THE UNITED STATES

CORRECTION: In the July/August edition of the newsletter, the name and address of the owner of the two books, History of the State of California and Biographical Records of Coast Counties and History of Contra Costa County, with Biographical Sketches, was incorrect. The owner of the books is Curt Rowe. His Internet address is: curtrowe@ix.netcom.com

CIVIL WAR INCOME TAX RECORDS: If your ancestor was in the United States during the Civil War, another possible source of records can be found in the Civil War income tax records. The Internal Revenue Act of 1862 instituted a tax to pay for the war. It was in effect from 1862-1872 and the records are available through the National Archives. This could be particularly valuable if your ancestor owned a business or a reasonable amount of property. Check the Guide to Genealogical Research in the National Archives for film numbers.
(CCCGS Newsletter, Vol. 12, No. 7, July 1997.)

CALIFORNIA: History of Contra Costa, published in 1882, was given to the Oakland LDS Family History Center. The San Ramon Valley Historical Society has a copy of the narrative of the San Ramon Valley (Township #2) and drawings of a few of the pioneer men — no women! The copy is in the protective custody of Ardith Steger 837-4306.

CALIFORNIA: If you are doing California research and in particular San Francisco research, plan a visit to the Main Library at Larkin & Grove Street. The 6th floor contains the San Francisco History Center with much valuable information, such as the Sanborn Fire Insurance Maps (1866-1928) on microfilm, Index to Deeds, Grantor and Grantee (1850-1928) and city directories, 1850-1900 on microfilm (except 1889-1900). The History Center is closed Mondays. The San Francisco Photo Collection is also on the 6th floor, with over 300,000 historic photos (open Tues/Thurs 1:00-5:00 p.m. and Saturday 10:00 a.m.- 5:00 p.m.). The 5th floor is the magazine and newspaper center with many older issues of the San Francisco and California newspapers. For information call: (415) 557-4400.
(SCCH&GS Newsletter, Vol. 42, Issue 6, June 1997.)

ILLINOIS: Information about the Illinois State Historical Library research printed in the July/August newsletter was incorrect. The correct information is on page 23.

ILLINOIS: Copies of microfilmed Illinois death certificates (1916-1942) kept by the Vital Records Office, Illinois Department of Public Health, may be obtained by writing for not more than two names at once, with death dates, to: Illinois State Archives, Margaret Cross Norton Building, Springfield, IL 62756. Send no money or SASE. You will be billed $.50 for each certificate found. Death records for the years prior to 1916 were kept by the county clerks, although very few counties kept any death records before 1877.

(CCCGS Newsletter, Vol. 12, No. 5, May 1997.)

MISSOURI: The Ozarks Genealogical Society, Inc. offers a list of publications, available. Write to the society at PO Box 3945, Springfield MO 65808-3945.

(CSGA Newsletter, Vol. 15, No. 6, June 1997.)

OHIO: The State Historical Society has the following research aids: 1) Free information packet. Write to them at 1892 Velma Ave., Columbia OH 43211. 1) E-mail requests may be sent to the Society for a half-hour search of the following indexes: vital records, probate indexes and naturalization. 2) For each search (one name in one source) the fee is $3. A statement will be sent following the search. The on-line address is ohsref@winslo.ohio.gov 3) Access the society's home page at <http://winslo.ohio.gov/ohswww/oshhome.html> 4) Rent Ohio newspapers through your library. Order the form from the Society, then send it to them with a check for $8.
(CCCGS Newsletter, Vol. 12, No. 1, January 1997.)

PENNSYLVANIA: The Washington County Pennsylvania Historical Society offers research services for a fee. Contract researchers will conduct specific research requests. Also the organization offers a Washington County research kit for $10. Write the society at 49 E. Maiden Street, Washington PA 15301 or call (412) 225-6740.

FRENCH: Avotaynu, The International Review of Jewish Genealogy, Vol. XII, No. 1, Spring 1997, contains several articles on conducting genealogical research in France including "Basic Genealogical Research in France," "Changes in Access to French Naturalization Documents," "Emigration from Alsace-Lorraine," and Jewish Cemeteries in Paris."

(CSGA Newsletter, Vol. 15, No. 7, July 1997.)

GERMAN: The German Post Office has changed its way of handling international reply coupons. Only one IRC can be accepted for any letter or package. Any postal charges in excess of the value of the IRC must be paid in cash by the mailer. One $1.05 IRC provides 3DM of postage for foreign mail. This covers about one sheet of paper and the envelope.

(Theakiki [Kankakee Valley Gen Soc Quarterly] Vol. 27, No. 3, August 1997.)

JEWISH: Curt Witcher in his column, Library Sources, provides an extremely informational article on "Jewish and Eastern European Treasures Right at Your Fingertips" in Ancestry, Vol. 15, No. 3, June/July 1997.

Avotaynu, The International Review of Jewish Genealogy, Vol. XII, No. 1, Spring 1997, contains several invaluable articles including several on France. Others consist of "Nineteenth and Twentieth Century Polish Directories as Resources for Genealogical Information," "The Location of U.S. Naturalization Records," "Books on Jewish History," "New Jewish Records of Hungary and Russia Available at the LDS Library," and "Jewish Genealogical Societies and Special Interest Groups."

(CSGA Newsletter, Vol. 15, No. 7, July 1997.)

NATIVE AMERICAN: Oklahoma Genealogical Society Quarterly, Vol. 42, No. 1, 1997, includes an article on "Evidence of Marriage in Creek National Records."

An article on "The Scots-Irish as Choctaw," was published in The Irish At Home and Abroad, Vol. 4, No. 2, 1997.

(CSGA Newsletter, Vol. 15, No. 9, September 1997.)

QUAKER: The National Society Descendants of Early Quakers, a lineage organization founded in September 1980, has two objectives: to promote historical research and scholarly efforts to preserve family records and documents and to promote appreciation and recognition of the accurate and extensive family records kept by the Society of Friends. Contact Mary C. Austin, 32 Heather Way, Larkspur CA 94939 for information.

(CSGA Newsletter, Vol. 15, No. 9, September 1997.)

CORRECTION

The information on the Illinois Genealogical Society in the RESEARCHING ACROSS THE UNITED STATES section of the July/August newsletter is incorrect. The following information on the revised search policy guidelines for NON-ILLINOIS residents was printed in the Chicago Genealogical Society newsletter, March 1997.

1. Request not more than four searches per letter.
2. Include a non-refundable payment of $10 for each search requested. Send a check or money order payable to ILLINOIS STATE HISTORICAL SOCIETY.
3. Do not send another letter of request until we have responded to your first one.
4. Give specific information. Requests must provide the individual's full name and exact date and place — month, day, and year as well as city and county — of the event in question. Please be sure to type or print legibly.
5. If you do not have the specific information needed for a reasonable search by our staff, you may borrow our newspaper on microfilm via interlibrary loan through your local library to do your own research.
6. If our search is unsuccessful, you will be notified of that fact.
7. Each letter of request must include a self-addressed, stamped, business-sized envelope.

LOS ANGELES RECORDS

The early Los Angeles District Court and County Court records were moved to the Huntington Library in San Marino on November 1, 1996, and include all civil, divorce, probate, and criminal records. Inquiries regarding indexing, copying, or access to the case files should be referred to Mr. William P. Frank, Curator, The Huntington Library, 1151 Oxford Road, San Marino CA 91108. The Library plans to create a computer database into which each of the 7,852 cases will be entered by case number judge, plaintiff, defendant, date, subject headings, and deponents and others mentioned in any significant way. The database will be available to scholars, the Superior Court, and the public and will be a source for various printed indexes. (FGS Forum, Vol. 9, No. 2, Summer 1997.)

ON THE LIGHTER SIDE

MURPHY'S LAWS APPLIED TO GENEALOGY

1. Ink fades and paper deteriorates at a rate inversely proportional to the value of data recorded. (Rough translation, it means your grocery lists will outlive your grandchildren but the genealogy you drove 1000 miles to find last summer is nearly gone.)

2. No one in your family tree ever did anything noteworthy, they always rented property, they never sued, and they were never named in or had wills, and they had a surname that was nearly all vowels.

3. None of the photographs in your deceased Grandmother's picture album were identified. (That is, of course, assuming that her impatient heirs didn't burn that old junk. If they did, it was all carefully labeled).

4. You neglected to ask _____ (fill in the name of any pertinent relative) about their family recollections while they were still alive. And now you have developed a keen interest in Ouija boards.

5. When you find a courthouse in the South in the area that you are researching that wasn't burned by the Yankees, you soon discover that one of the early sheriffs of the county did burn it.
